

Professor José DIAZ Short Biography

Jose Díaz is currently full professor of Atomic, Molecular and Nuclear Physics at the University of Valencia (Spain) and a member of IFIC (CSIC-University of Valencia). He did his PhD Thesis at Strasbourg CRN (France) and was professor at the University of Nantes (France).

He worked in the field of nuclear reactions and nuclear instrumentation and has belonged to the executive committees of the TAPS, HADES and PANDA collaborations.

He is the author of about 150 peer reviewed papers. He currently leads the Laboratory of Environmental Radioactivity of IFIC, which has commitments in the monitoring of Cofrentes Nuclear Power Plant and the development of the radiological emergency plan of the Valencia region.

